International Newsroom

Ernest Evans appointed Head of International Financial

Lisle, Ill. (December 19, 2025) – Today International Financial supports TRATON Financial Services in its appointment of Ernest Evans as Head of International Financial, the financial solutions arm of International Motors, LLC ("International"), effective January 1, 2026.

"International has made significant progress in delivering bundled solutions that simplify how customers manage their business," said Mathias Carlbaum, president and CEO, International. "I'm confident Ernest will be a strong leader in advancing this approach by working closely with customers to create financial solutions that maximize value and support their long-term success."

Ernest brings more than 25 years of experience in equipment financing to International Financial, having held senior leadership roles across DLL, JPMorgan Chase and GE Capital. Most recently, he served as General Manager for DLL Financing Solutions U.S.A., where he oversaw Sales, Risk, Credit, Operations and additional functions in a global matrix organization. His focus areas included customer experience, process efficiency, digital transformation and cultural change.

"Financing today is a partnership, not a transactional experience," said Evans. "With the team at International Financial, we're committed to providing financial innovation to International customers that enables uptime, digital transformation, and navigating market challenges."

Ernest served seven years in the United States Air Force and holds a bachelor's degree in economics from Bellarmine University and an MBA from Washington University in St. Louis.

To learn more about International Financial, visit www.international.com/services/financing.

Additional assets available online: Photos (1) https://news.international.com/2025-12-19-Ernest-Evans-Appointed-Head-of-International-Financial