International launches modern e-commerce site for commercial vehicle parts, Fleetrite.com

Fleetrite.com offers online self-service customer experience to purchase OEM and all-makes aftermarket truck and bus parts

LISLE, Ill., Oct. 1, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- International Motors, LLC* (International) today launched Fleetrite.com, a new e-commerce site that lets fleets, independent repair shops and owner-operators search, price and purchase the entire breadth of the International® parts portfolio, from International OEM parts to Fleetrite® branded all-makes parts, and third-party all-makes aftermarket parts in a single self-service transaction, 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Fleetrite.com simplifies parts management with quick parts searchability, a real-time inventory view and streamlined parts ordering. The e-commerce site shows real-time parts availability across three sources at once – the customer's local dealer shelf, an International parts distribution center and online inventory – so a buyer can see where a part is and when it will arrive before placing an order. Orders are fulfilled through International's network of more than 600 International and IC Bus® dealer locations across North America.

"Our customers range from large fleets to owner-operators and independent repair shops, each with vastly different parts needs," said Nathan Barber of Hill International Trucks, one of the co-designers of Fleetrite.com.

"Fleetrite.com brings everything together in one easy-to-use solution, allowing customers to search and cross-reference parts while seeing live inventory on our shelves and at the local PDC. It makes the parts buying experience easier and keeps customers coming back."

What customers can do on Fleetrite.com

- Search 400,000 quality OEM, Fleetrite and all-makes parts in one catalog
- View real-time availability at the local dealer, a parts distribution center or online
- See pricing and place orders 24/7 without calling a parts counter
- Order all-makes and OEM parts from the same dealer in a single transaction
- Track orders and place reorders from purchase history

Why launch Fleetrite.com?

Fleetrite.com is the single, simplest source for every part of a mixed fleet – OEM and all-makes, one vendor, one order and one invoice.

"Fleetrite.com puts the entire International parts catalog in the customer's hands," said Jordan Birch, vice president, Parts, International. "Find the part, see where it is, know when you'll have it – all without picking up the phone. That's what keeps trucks earning."
