

NAV Back On The NYSE

WARRENVILLE, Ill. (June 30, 2008) Navistar International Corporation's (NYSE: NAV) common stock resumes trading today on the New York Stock Exchange under original ticker symbol NAV; Navistar preferred stock trades under ticker NAVPrD.

"We're back and stronger than ever. The NYSE has been home to us for nearly 100 years and it feels good to be back," said Daniel C. Ustian, Navistar chairman, president and chief executive officer. "While we were away, we were busy – introducing new products, building strategic relationships and expanding into new markets. We have remained focused on our strategy and we are returning to the NYSE an even smarter, more efficient and more competitive Navistar, poised for sustained success."

Navistar was suspended from the NYSE last year due to delays in financial filings. The company became current with financial information on June 27.

<https://news.international.com/news?item=161>